Bills to Increase Sales Tax Ready For Senate Vote

Powell Measure
For Flat One Cent
Hike Receives Praise

SPRINGFIELD — The administration bills for a 1-2 cent, two-year increase in the state sales tax, and a matching use tax on out-of-state buying, today were ready for a passage vote in the Senate.

At the same time, the other major bill in the "agreed" revenue program of Gov. William G. Stratton and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley—the bill for a 1-2 cent city sales tax without referendum—moved to the Senate floor with committee approval.

But business spokesmen who have been battling the Stratton-Daley program jumped behind a rival tax plan sponsored by Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna) which also got approval of a committee Wednesday.

The Powell Bill

The Powell bill would impose a flat 1 cent sales tax increase for two years, earmark half of the increase for public schools and the other half for cities. It would require downstate cities to reduce their property tax levies by one-half the amount of sales tax revenue gained and Chicago to reduce property tax levies by one-fourth the sales tax revenues. Cities would share the sales tax share on a population basis.

While the Stratton-Daley city sales tax measure was under heavy fire from merchants and city officials in the Senate Municipalities committee, Powell's bill won unexpected praise from at least two business forces.

"I like this bill," Joseph T. Meek, president of the Illinois Federation of Retail Assns., said of the Powell bill. "There's more sense to it than any of the other sales tax bills."

Members of the Chicago merchants delegation, who last week unsuccessfully tried to get Stratton to agree to a state-wide tax to be shared with cities also praised the Powell bill.

Rep. William Lyons (D-Gillespie) summed up some downstate legislators leaning on the Powell bill by saying, "This doesn't involve any 'deals' between the governor and the mayor of Chicago or any other mayor."

Sheriff Barrett Proclaims Safety Period

'Slow Down and Live' Campaign
May 27 to Sept. 5

Sheriff William T. Barrett of Saline county today proclaimed the period between 6 p. m. May 27 and midnight Sept. 5 as a safety period in this county identified as "Slow Down and Live."

"During this time all enforcement personnel at my command will be alerted to the tremendous task of furnishing the necessary protection of the travelling public," Barrett's proclamation stated.

His proclamation was made in cooperation with the governors of the 48 states and the Illinois State safety co-ordinator.

At the 46th annual meeting of the Governors' conference last year, "Slow Down and Live" was unanimously endorsed with the signing of a joint declaration by the 48 governors, setting forth the position of each state in full support of this highway safety project.

Harvey J. Dowling, Illinois safety co-ordinator, is now asking the sheriffs of each county to take charge of the safety campaign in their respective areas, with the Traffic Safety section of the Illinois State police co-operating.

The program is designed to bring about 101 days of intensified enforcement and publicity between Memorial Day and Labor Day.

"Regardless of how we may evaluate speed as an accident cause, everyone will agree that speed kills," Sheriff Barrett stated.

"It requires only common sense to know that the chance of death or serious injury in a motor vehicle accident is greater if the vehicle is moving at a high rate of speed.

"Our problem is not excessive speed alone, but all the violations in which the driver is so much in a hurry that the speed of the vehicle is too fast for conditions. This is the real objective of our program.

"If we eliminate the headlong rush, we strike at the largest single factor in traffic accidents and traffic deaths."

Buddy Poppy Queen Visit a Colorful Event

A colorful parade and ceremony was held yesterday afternoon in Harrisburg.

The event was the appearance of the Illinois Buddy Poppy Queen, here on a statewide tour sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Illinois.

The Buddy Poppy Queen is Miss Diane Gale, 18-year-old Chicago girl who was brought here to help the Beasley-Murray post, VFW, sell their poppies. She was accompanied by Illinois VFW Commander Raymond W. Schild and other dignitaries.

Miss Gale took part in a parade that started on East Poplar street and moved to the post office. She looked beautiful and charming as she sat in an open convertible in the procession, which was headed by the uniformed Harrisburg Township high school band.

At the post office the party was welcomed by Mayor Claud Gibbons, Sheriff William T. Barrett and County Judge Trafton Dennis, with Hughie Walker making the introductions.

Flanked by the VFW Color Guard and the Firing Squad, a brief program was held. It opened with the National Anthem by the band and the invocation by the Rev. J. W. Duke, after which Commander Schild and Miss Gale spoke and Miss Gale pinned the first Harrisburg poppy on Mayor Gibbons.

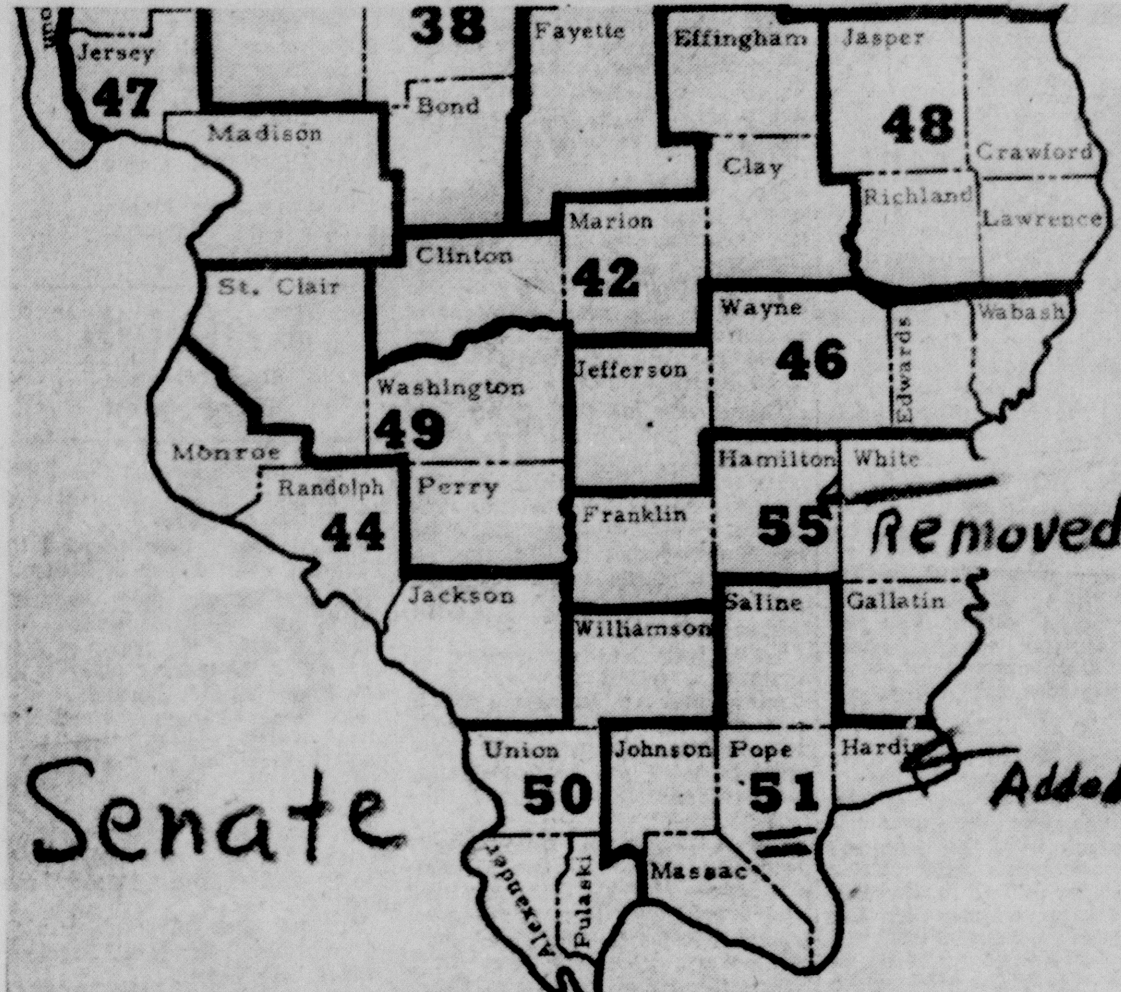

Following the ceremony the group paraded through parts of the city and a reception was held at the VFW home with the Auxiliary present. Mrs. Florence Hancock, in charge.

The group is on tour all week. After departing from Harrisburg the party planned to stop at Herrin.

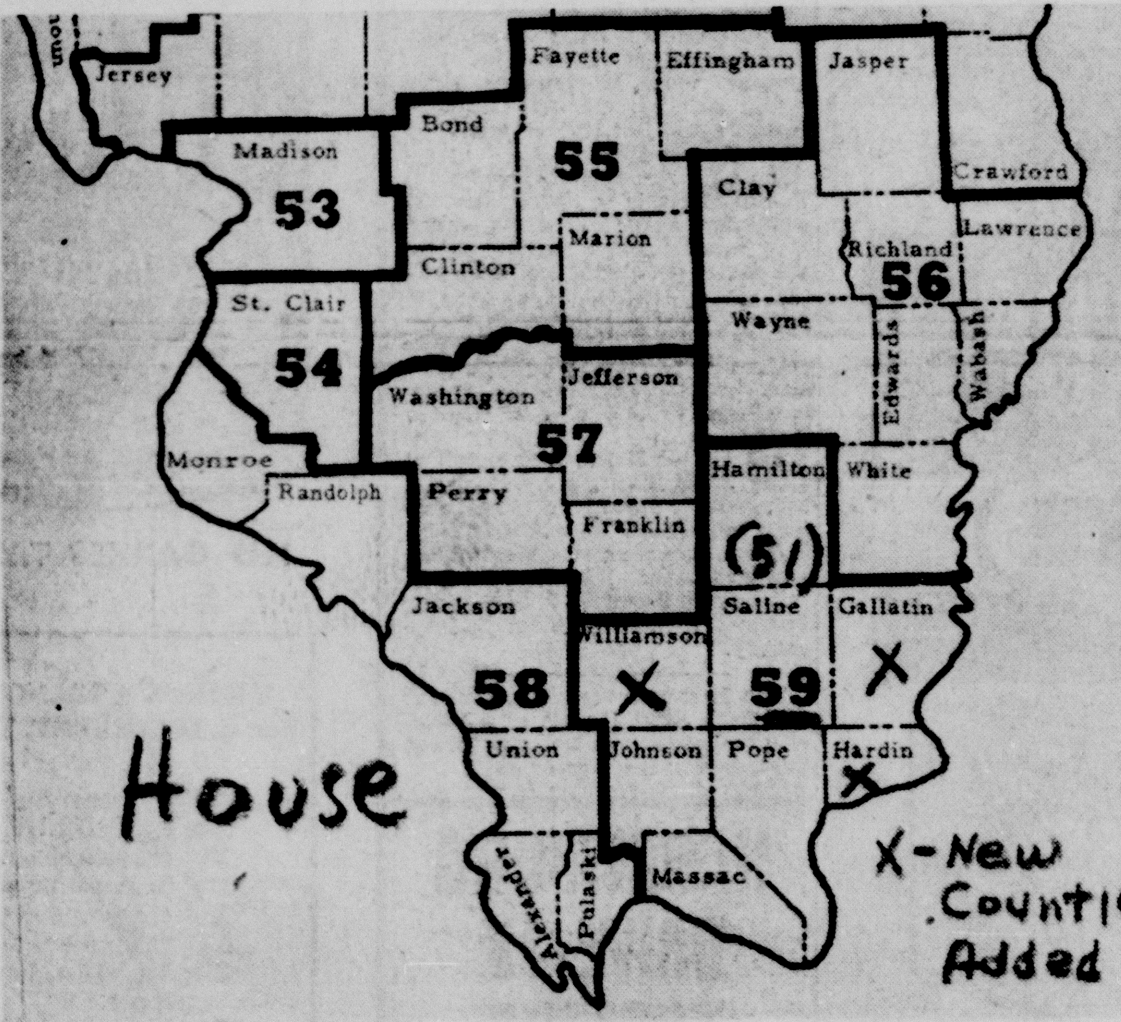

Jim Catlin Elected President of Dental School Junior Class

James (Jim) Catlin, graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school with the class of 1949, now a student at the University of Illinois Dental School in Chicago, was elected president of the Junior Class for 1956.

James is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Catlin.

PROPOSED DISTRICTS UNDER STATE LEGISLATIVE REAPPORTIONMENT are revealed in the two maps of the southern portion of the state. Under the present plan, Saline county would be in the 51st Senate district, from which the state senator would be elected, and other counties would be Johnson, Pope, Hardin and Massac. That is the same as the present 51st district from which both senators and house members are elected except that Hamilton has been dropped and Hardin added. Saline would be in the 59th House district, which also would have Hamilton, Williamson, Gallatin, Johnson, Pope, Hardin and Massac.

First Remap Bill Since 1901 is Approved in House, 129 to 15

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois House today passed its first legislative reapportionment bill since 1901.

The vote for the new districting plan was 129-15, with five members voting present.

The passage came after 3 1/2 hours of debate and parliamentary maneuvers by the handful of representatives still dissatisfied with the measure.

The bill was sent to the Senate, which will undertake to pass it next week.

Speaker Warren L. Wood (R-Plainfield) called the bill for passage immediately today. Rep. Harry D. Lavery (R-Chicago), a foe of the bill because he doesn't want the boundaries dealt to his proposed House District 10, again used the "silent filibustering" tactics of requiring the bill to be read in full.

After the bill was read, Rep. Arthur W. Sprague (R-La Grange), head of the committee which drafted the House portion, moved for its passage. But Lavery and his sympathizers again attempted to delay the vote and Rep. Alan J. Dixon (D-Belleview) "moved the previous question" to stop the delaying debate.

The House first had to uphold Dixon's motion, then passed the historic bill.

Sprague said the bill was "a matter of give and take" and admitted "it's not the perfect solution for all members" but "by and large a good job has been done on House districts."

The state hasn't had legislative reapportionment since 1901. The constitution required the Legislature to do it every 10 years but there was no machinery to force the Legislature to do this.

In 1953, Gov. William G. Stratton pushed a proposed constitutional reapportionment amendment through the Legislature and the people approved it at the 1954 referendum. It required the junking of the present 51 district legislative map and the creation of 58 new Senate districts and 59 new House districts.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Estimate 300 Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO — The National Safety Council estimates 360 persons will die in traffic accidents during the Memorial Day week-end.

The prediction was made for the period from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Monday.

CHICAGO — The Chicago Motor Club predicted today that 31 persons will be killed on Illinois roads this weekend.

The prediction included 18 deaths downstate and 13 in Cook County, 5 of these in Chicago.

Hazel Neal Freed Of Fines Levied In County Court

Hazel Neal, twice fined for selling liquor and once fined for operating a gambling place, today was free of his obligations to the county.

Neal several weeks ago was fined $100 and costs on the gambling charge and $50 and costs on the liquor charge by County Judge Trafton Dennis. A year ago he was fined $100 and costs for selling liquor by County Judge Ralph Choiser.

No part of the fines or costs were ever paid and a few days ago county authorities picked him up on multimittimus because of failure to pay.

But Neal hired himself a lawyer, and yesterday he got out of jail.

His attorney, Arlie O. Boswell, filed petitions asking that he be released on the contention that Neal is a pauper, having no funds or estate to pay the fines and costs.

Judge Dennis signed the papers presented by Boswell which ordered Neal discharged from jail and forever released from payment of the fines.

Disaster Exhausts Red Cross Blood; Appeal for Donors

As a result of the tornado disaster, an emergency call has been sent out by the St. Louis Regional Blood Center of the Red Cross, urging donors in Saline county to make an extra effort to give blood this week end, since the entire supply of the St. Louis blood bank has been sent to the disaster area.

Only two chapters in the St. Louis region will be operating Bloodmobiles this week end, and a maximum effort is urgently needed to replenish the blood supply in the bank, since it is inevitable that another large supply of blood will be needed over the holiday week end. An extra special request for type O-negative blood has been sent out, since it can be used on any patient without the necessity of typing the patient's blood beforehand.

The Bloodmobile will remain open until all donors have been taken in at both locations, it was announced today, instead of closing at 6 p. m.

House Votes to Probe Bridge At New Harmony

WASHINGTON — A three-man House committee will investigate finances of the White County, Ill., Bridge Commission.

The House voted 205-166 Wednesday to approve the inquiry, sought by Indiana Democrats and opposed by Illinois members.

Hoosier Reps. Winfield K. Denton and Ray J. Madden said that when Congress created the authority 15 years ago to operate the bridge near New Harmony, Ind., it failed to provide for auditing the commission's books.

Both Democrats emphasized they were not accusing anyone of wrongdoing, but said the bridge cost $500,000 and Congress should find out what's been done with the $3,196,000 in tolls collected during the last 14 years.

Illinois Republicans Charles W. Vursell and Leo E. Allen said Congress should devote its time to more pressing matters.

They said the commission's books were open to everyone, and that in voting for the investigation the House was acting on the "grumbles of bellyachers."

Allen said a lot of the money collected in tolls was spent for interest on bonds floated to finance $550,000 in construction, and $1,000,000 was used to "prevent overflow" of the river. There also were items like employee salaries and maintenance costs, he said.

REPORT BRIDGE WILL BECOME TOLL FREE

In relating the story concerning the inquiry, the Chicago Tribune story stated that Congressman Vursell reported the bridge bonds are being paid off 10 years ahead of schedule and that the bridge will be made free of tolls in July.

Congressman Denton retorted that in relating the story came a day after the rules committee approved his resolution for the investigation.

Vursell defended the commission members as reliable, upstanding citizens, according to the Tribune.

Officials of the commission are Roy Clippinger, former Republican congressman from Illinois, manager and assistant secretary-treasurer; J. Madison Pomeroy, chairman; Jennings F. Marlin, vice chairman; and Julius C. Kern, secretary-treasurer.

Robert Elijah Chamness, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Chamness, 315 South Van Buren street in Marion, died yesterday at 9 p. m. in the Marion Memorial hospital.

Death was due to injuries received in a tractor accident at his home 5:30 yesterday afternoon.

The body is now at the Cosby funeral home in Creal Springs where an inquest will be held today at 5 p. m. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Methodist Boys, Girls To Try Odd Jobs Project Again on Saturday

The boys and girls of the intermediate division of the First Methodist church, who had planned to earn money last Saturday by washing cars and doing odd jobs, were "rained out." They are planning to try again this coming Saturday because they want to apply their earnings on some needed equipment for the intermediate department and on their church pledge.

The boys will wash cars at the Stokes Electric, 220 South Granger, and they may be reached there to do other jobs, too, by calling 1050.

The girls who will be available to do baby sitting, run errands, or housework may be reached by calling the church office, phone 232.

Estimated Death Toll Set at 90; Hundreds Hurt

Udall, Kans., Hit
Hardest; Three States in Path

UDALL, Kan. — Tornadoes left a tragic path of death and ruin in three southwestern states today.

One twister all but wiped this village off the map in the worst such disaster ever to hit the "cyclone state" of Kansas.

The estimated death total for the entire area was set at 90, and authorities feared it would mount. Hundreds were injured.

This was the boxscore of dead and injured in the devastation which struck Wednesday night in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Udall and vicinity—54 dead, at least 500 injured.

Blackwell, Okla.—20 dead, 150 to 200 injured.

Cheyenne, Okla.—2 dead.

Sterling, Tex.—14 feared dead in a bomber crash.

Udall, a village of 610, suffered the most savage blow. State highway police said an estimated 40 persons were killed when the twister demolished a home for the aged.

Three more bodies were brought to hospitals in surrounding communities, and at least 200 persons in the area were injured.

Weather Bureau records showed it was the most deadly tornado ever to hit the state of Kansas. The storm previous entire year of storm deaths was 1917, when 42 Kansans were killed.

Udall Mayor Earl Rowe estimated the toll in Wednesday night's twister even higher.

"Out of a population of 610," he said, "there must be 500 killed and wounded. I counted seven bodies around my home."

At nearby Blackwell, the same twister or perhaps another one wrecked a 12-block area and demolished a hospital and a glass factory.

At least 10 Tornadoes

Weather bureau experts said reports indicated that at least 10 tornadoes struck during the night in Oklahoma along a path nearly 200 miles long.

The storm line extended in almost a straight line from Shamrock, Tex., where the first storm hit at 3:17 p. m., on through Cheyenne, Camargo and Blackwell, Okla., and on to Udall, Rock, Derby and Gueda Springs, Kan.

Two persons were known dead at Cheyenne, and at least 18 homes were destroyed in the western portion of Oklahoma.

The Udall twister struck about 10:30 p. m.

"I had just gotten up," said Mayor Rowe. "I'm a night worker. I was standing at the front door in my boots. There was lightning and just a little rain. Then it hit."

"My house just floated away. I don't know where it is."

Rowe's wife and three children survived, but one of the children was hurt.

Henry Harvey, news director of Radio Station KFBI at Wichita, Kan., hastened to the scene and reported destruction beyond description. Clocks had stopped at 10:30 p. m., but communications were shattered and it was after midnight before word got out that the town had been leveled.

Oil Well Survey Company to Locate Its Offices Here

Announcement was made today that the Schlumberger Oil Well Surveying Corporation would establish offices in Harrisburg in the near future, which would indicate increased oil activity in this area.

The corporation will be in operation from its Harrisburg office not later than June 6, it was learned.

Their operations included the surveying of the bottom of oil wells and also perforation of drilled wells.

The company, which will build an office and garage building, will establish temporary offices here, but the location was not known today.

There will be eight families connected with the company moving into Harrisburg soon, and it is thought that at least four additional families will move to this city before the end of the summer.

A Mr. Baker will head Schlumberger's operations in Harrisburg.

Rise of Adm. Burke to Top Navy Post Indicates A-Planning for Younger Men

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Rear Adm. Arleigh A. Burke's rocket-like rise to top man in the Navy demonstrated today the administration's belief that atomic age war planning is for younger men.

Many an old admiral was sputtering over the sudden elevation of the 53-year-old World War II combat leader to be chief of naval operations, succeeding Adm. Robert B. Carney. President Eisenhower Wednesday jumped Burke over the heads of five four-star admirals, 21 vice admirals and 64 rear admirals.

Senate confirmation appeared a certainly, but not until Burke had been closely questioned on his major role in the "battle of the B38" and Navy "revolt" of 1949. The Navy men tried unsuccessfully to prevent Air Force thinking on strategic bombing from becoming a national policy known as "massive retaliation." But they turned attention on the Navy which today is building the kind of forces they said it should have.

Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas told reporters today that Burke, now commanding Atlantic Fleet destroyers, was his personal nomination because of his "age, experience and combat record."

Burke will be jumped from two-star to four-star admiral, something that has happened only three times before in naval history. He will stand second only to the late Adm. Forrest Sherman as the youngest naval chief ever.

"Word of Honor"

Thomas gave his "word of honor" that Carney's retirement had no connection with the admiral's celebrated prediction in March that war might break out in the Formosa area by mid-April. Mr. Eisenhower publicly disputed that prediction. Carney later denied he had specifically pinpointed a likely date for Far Eastern hostilities.

Found Caverns

The Carlsbad Caverns were discovered in 1901 when Jim White, a cowboy, saw a great number of bats come out of an opening in the ground as dusk was falling.

The production of castor oil once was centered in southern Illinois. However, it was used mostly for lubricating purposes and not as a children's medicine.

Eden is Solid Favorite as Britons Vote

LONDON (U.P.)—Britain voted today in a general election that was expected to anchor Prime Minister Anthony Eden firmly in the leadership he waited so long to inherit from the indestructible Winston Churchill.

Eden, foremost exponent of friendship and cooperation with the United States, was a solid 5-1 favorite to remain in office as Britain chose between the capitalism of his Conservative Party and the socialism of the Laborites.

The voting began at 7 a. m. (2 a. m. EDT) under partly cloudy skies with a light drizzle falling in the south of England. It will end at 9 p. m. (4 p. m. EDT) and the results should be known by Friday afternoon.

The contest was for 630 seats in the House of Commons where the Conservatives have been operating with a slim, 18-seat majority. The winner of the election is the party that wins a majority of Commons seats. The Queen appoints the winning party's leader to be prime minister.

There were 625 seats in the last Commons, but redistribution which brought up charges of "gerrymandering" in Britain for the first time raised the total to 630. The Conservatives held 322 seats in the last house, Labor 293, Liberals 6, Irish Nationalists 2 and Irish Labor 1.

Communists Not Issue

There were 1,400 candidates, including a record number of 87 women, and for the first time in centuries in Britain every candidate had an opponent. The Communists were not an issue—they received only 23,000 votes in the last election.

Public opinion polls unanimously predicted victory for the 57-year-old Eden and his Conservatives who are pledged to a platform of peace, prosperity and pro-American policy. Forecasts were for a Tory majority of from 50 to 100.

But Clement Attlee's Socialist Labor Party was bidding for another upset like the stunning 1945 triumph that topped the Tory government of Winston Churchill himself.

The 80-year-old Churchill has retired as prime minister but was running again for a back bench in Parliament. He hovered anxiously, and not far in the background, while his protégé Eden boldly gambled the office handed down to him just 51 days ago.

U. S. Boosts Eden

It was a sentimental election. It was expected to be Churchill's last campaign against what he called the "muddle-headed jabbering" of the Socialists. And it probably was the aging Attlee's last chance to return to No. 10 Downing Street.

Both the Laborites and Conservatives have similar foreign policies, but the Conservative policy is closer to that of the United States.

The United States, with much at stake, gave Eden a powerful boost by agreeing abruptly to attend top-level talks. Socialists called it political interference by the Republican administration. The left-wing Bevan accused Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of "political jiggery-pokery."

The first governor of Illinois was Shadrach Bond, the son of a farmer on whose farm a blockhouse was built during the War of 1812.

Reject Bill to Sever Ties of Farm Bureau and Advisers

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — The Illinois House Agriculture Committee
Wednesday voted 17-5 against passage of a bill to sever the financial connection between the Farm Bureau and county agricultural and home advisers.
The bill would ban any private farm group from contributing to the salary or expenses of the farm and home advisers. It was sponsored by Rep. Joe W. Russell (D-Piper City) who said it followed the directive of U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson issued last year.

Benson ordered states to dissolve the ties between farm advisers and non-government farm organizations. He issued the order after complaints by the National Farmers Union and other groups that the Farm Bureau was using its position as part-financier of the farm agents to influence farmer policies.

University of Illinois Agriculture
Dean L. B. Howard told the House committee withdrawal of the Farm Bureau from the county farm and home extension program would cost the state two million dollars a year.
He said the Benson directive gave the states three to five years to carry it out and indicated a postponement might be in order.

"MISS SALINE COUNTY" TO COMPETE FOR "MISS ILLINOIS" TITLE—Miss Eugenia Gollieher, winner of the Harrisburg Jaycees' Saline County Beauty Pageant at last summer's fair, will leave tomorrow morning for Quincy to compete with beauty queens from all over the state for the title of "Miss Illinois" and the right to enter the Miss America contest at Atlantic City in September. Last year's local entrant Miss Peggy Black, was among the five finalists in the Miss Illinois festivities at Cairo, and the Jaycees have high hopes for their entrant this year. White House Denies Mrs. Hobby Has Quit

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The White House denied categorically today published reports that Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby has submitted her resignation as secretary of health, education, and welfare.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty issued the denial after talking with President Eisenhower and with Mrs. Hobby, who is in Texas with her ailing husband.

"We have had no resignation submitted but his (Hobby's) condition is critical and I can't tell you at this time whether that illness will force Mrs. Hobby to leave the government," Hagerty said.

"That is the situation up to 9:40 this morning."

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference last week that the only woman member of his Cabinet "placed me on notice some months ago that conditions might arise (her husband's illness) that would compel her to leave the government." He said he would be sorry to have that happen.

Hagerty described as "wrong" to separate news stories that Mrs. Hobby had resigned and her successor had been chosen.

One, (New York Daily News) said Mrs. Hobby was going to be replaced by Clare Boothe Luce, ambassador to Italy. The other (New York Herald Tribune) said Mrs. Hobby had submitted her resignation and that Bradshaw Mintener, assistant secretary, had been chosen to succeed her.

"Both stories are wrong," Hagerty said.

In Rome, Italy, Mrs. Luce denied that she would take Mrs. Hobby's post. Some Democrats have criticized Mrs. Hobby's handling of the polio vaccine program.

Senate Rebuffs Eisenhower on Highway Bill

By United Press

The administration hoped today that the House would keep alive President Eisenhower's highway program.

In a major rebuff to the Chief Executive, the Senate Wednesday night rejected his highway plan and adopted a Democratic substitute sponsored by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.).

But Rep. Tom Steed (D-Okla.) said an informal poll of a House public works subcommittee which is considering highway legislation showed an "overwhelming majority" of members "think the Gore plan is not big enough to do the job that is needed."

Steed said the poll indicated the subcommittee favors a program "as big in scope but differing in details" from the administration plan.

The Gore bill called for a five-year, 18 billion dollar highway-building program while the administration plan proposed a 10-year, 39 billion dollar program. A chief difference in the two plans is the financing method. The administration proposal contained a controversial plan for issuing special bonds outside the federal debt.

The Senate passed the Gore plan by voice vote after two earlier decisive record votes. It first defeated 80-31 an administration proposal to junk the Gore bill in favor of the President's program. It then rejected 50-39 a GOP move to pigeonhole the Gore bill by sending it back to the Senate Public Works Committee.

Cut Budgets for White House, 3 Small Agencies

By United Press

The House Appropriations Committee cut budgets for the White House and three small agencies 21 per cent today.

The bill was comparatively small—$21,890,700—but the percentage

cut was the largest of the session to date.

The money will be used to run the White House, White House agencies, the Subversive Activities Control Board, the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission, and the American Battle Monuments Commission for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The total was $5,810,000 below administration requests.

But President Eisenhower personally got all he asked—$150,000 in pay, $2,055,500 to run the White House office, $366,200 for the executive session and grounds, and $1,000,000 to beef up his emergency fund.

RABIES CONTROL PROGRAM

WHAT IS RABIES?

Rabies sometimes called hydrophobia, is a highly infectious disease which can affect both animals and man. It is spread from an infected rabid animal to another susceptible animal or human being through a wound. Usually the wound is produced by the bite of the rabid animal, but not always. The germ or virus which causes rabies is present in the saliva of the animal and may be present for several days before any symptoms of rabies are noticed. If an infected animal so much as licks a tiny scratch or break in the skin, the virus may infect susceptible persons. Once rabies infection is allowed to develop, it is fatal to both animal and man.

It is the general consensus that a rabies control program is needed in Saline county at this time. The vaccination program should be an annual or yearly program since the vaccination of the dog for rabies control is effective for only a one year period. It is estimated that there are 4,150 dogs in Saline county. This figure is allowing for 650 stray dogs. In order to have a Rabies Control program at least 80 per cent of these dogs should be vaccinated for rabies.

Economically, it is estimated that the people of Illinois spend in excess of $100,000 annually for anti-rabies (Pasteur) treatments and other necessary surgical care. Rabies is computed to cost the livestock industry of the State approximately $500,000 annually in the loss of animals and animal products, resulting largely from the bites of roving rabid dogs.

Dogs, of course, are guilty of giving the disease to humans more than any other animal—but all warm blooded animals are susceptible to rabies. Dogs are responsible for from 85 to 90 per cent of the cases in human beings. The disease also occurs among other members of the canine species, such as wolves, coyotes and foxes. Cases in cats, squirrels, rabbits, skunks, cattle, horses, sheep and hogs are occasionally reported. But dogs as a rule live in close association with human beings, and they come in contact frequently with other dogs and other animals. This means that dogs may easily be exposed to rabies and that they may easily spread the disease. Unvaccinated dogs are highly susceptible to rabies.

Thus, we have given you the picture of rabies in Illinois—now, what should we do about it? We have seen how serious the rabies danger is to both the humans and animals of the state. The need for positive and widespread rabies control is obvious.

During the past three weeks there have been two cases of rabies reported from rural route 3, Eldorado. The two cases were detected by the Southern Illinois Laboratory in skunks. It is possible for the skunk to bite dogs and other animals and get the rabies scattered over a wide area. It is recommended by the Egyptian Health Department that all dog owners be sure that their dog is vaccinated for rabies, in order to protect their dog, their neighbor from being attacked by a rabid dog.

Last year there was a rabies outbreak in Jackson county and the citizens of Saline county do not want to see an outbreak of rabies here.

State Police Chief Warns of Memorial Day Heavy Traffic

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Phil M. Brown, superintendent of State Highway Police, today warned motorists of congested traffic conditions expected on Illinois highways during the Memorial Day week end.

"With a three-day holiday in prospect, the roads will be jammed with motorists and their families enjoying a short vacation, the first of the warm-weather season," he said. Brown added that the heaviest traffic is anticipated in the vicinity of state parks and memorials and public recreation areas.

"As in the past, the State Highway Police will be on hand to further the aims of Governor William G. Stratton's highway safety program. Additional officers will be on duty to assist in the smooth flow of traffic and to prevent accidents wherever they may be averted," Brown declared.

Brown pointed out that accidents can be prevented by observing traffic regulations, exercising caution when the question of "who has the right-of-way?" arises and applying the precepts of common courtesy to driving.

Brown credited the success of past safety campaigns to the active interest in the problem of traffic safety exhibited by Governor Stratton.

Butler Boomed For GOP Congress Race in 25th Dist.

State Senator Homer Butler of Marion is being boomed for the Republican nomination for congressman from the 25th district in 1956, according to information received from Oldham Paisley, editor of the Marion Daily Republican.

Editor Paisley recently wrote to GOP precinct committeemen in the 25th Congressional district asking their opinions on whom they thought would make a good Republican candidate for congressman. He and Ralph Harris of Marion, Williamson county GOP chairman, mailed a ballot to all 379 precinct committeemen asking for their choice. Listed were the names of C. W. "Runt" Bishop, ex-congressman, Homer Butler, and a blank for any other suggestions.

The Marion editor wrote that results showed eight per cent were for Bishop, 77 per cent for Butler, six per cent were for Judge Peyton Kuncie of Jackson county and scattered votes for Ralph Harris and A. L. Fowler of Marion, Peyton Berbling of Cairo, Robert G. Miley and W. B. Westbrook of Harrisburg, Alfred Van Hoose and Conrad F. Becker.

CHICAGO (AP) — Wausau, Wis., and the state of Washington are the grand award winners of the 1954 national traffic safety contest.

The winners were announced Tuesday night by the National Safety Council. It is the second consecutive year Wausau won the city honor.

There were 46 states and 865 cities competing in the contest. Winners were judged for a wide range of safety action from education to licensing.

Divisional awards were made to 10 other states and 45 cities. Special awards also were granted to 189 cities with more than 10,000 population which had no traffic deaths for the year.

Divisional first place state awards went to Washington in the West, Connecticut in the East, Minnesota in the Midwest, Virginia in the South, and Pennsylvania among the eight largest states in a special category.

Chicago took first place in city awards determined on a population basis in the one million or more class.

St. Louis, Mo., is the largest city recognized for having no traffic deaths during 1954.

Korean War Bonus Nears Final Passage In Illinois Legislature

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A 150-million-dollar Korean War servicemen's bonus was only two stages away from final passage in the Illinois Legislature today.

The Senate Military and Veterans Affairs Committee sent the House-passed bill to the Senate floor with a recommendation for passage Wednesday.

The bill would give servicemen from June 26, 1950, to July 26, 1953, $10 per month for domestic duty and $15 per month for foreign service.

The 150-million-dollar bond issue used to pay the bonuses would be paid off by nearly all the state's harness race pari-mutuel betting tax and one-half of the alcoholic liquors tax.

Father Attends Son's Funeral In Jail Clothes

BANNING, Calif. (AP) — Roger Deason, handcuffed and with his wife's coat thrown over his shoulder to hide his jail clothes, wept bitterly Wednesday at funeral services for his 9-year-old son.

The boy, Roger Jr., committed suicide with a shotgun Monday after his father was jailed on a burglary charge. Deason, guarded by two sheriff's officers, was permitted to attend the services.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Gladys Deason, burst into tears when her husband was led into the funeral chapel, and she threw her overcoat over his shoulders to hide his jail clothes.

Mrs. Deason said Roger Jr., a constant companion of the elder Deason on hunting and fishing trips, killed himself because he couldn't bear the taunts of schoolmates that his father was a "jail-bird."

Deason was returned to county jail in Riverside, Calif., where he will await trial on burglarizing a Riverside market of $1,587 in cash and $8,100 in travelers checks.

Phillies Dump Giants Twice; Cardinals Tumble to Cubs' Sizzling Pitching, 1-0, 3-1

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

The Phillies have operated strictly as a "public utility" this season, playing in-and-out baseball in and out of Philadelphia — but don't try to tell that to the Giants.

Those brotherly love Quakers have been the town bullies as far as New York is concerned with six victories in seven meetings, thus far, counting a double header sweep, 8-3 and 5-2, Wednesday night. The Giants could be right on the necks of the first place Dodgers if only things were as they had been in 1954—when at this time New York had won six out of eight from the Phils. They wound up with a season mark of 16 wins and only six defeats against them.

This year, the Giants are the only team Philadelphia beats consistently. Philly has only 13 victories overall against 23 defeats and had been in last place until the twin wins Wednesday night.

Robin Roberts struck out six and checked the Giants with five hits to win the opener. His biggest difficulty was with Bobby Hofman, sub infielder installed by Manager Leo Durocher as a catcher to get more punch behind the bat. Hofman hit a triple and a homer.

Hitting Big-Wigs

Del Ennis and Richie Ashburn were the hitting big-wigs behind Murry Dickson's third triumph in the second game. Ennis the menace socked a three-run homer in the first inning when lefty Johnny Antonelli was kayoed. He suffered his third straight loss to the Phils. Ashburn made three hits, giving him six for the night, and boosting him to .384 in the National League averages—tops over Giant Don Mueller who dropped to .374 when he went hitless in both games.

In other National League games the Cubs took over second from the Giants by defeating the Cardinals 1-0 and 3-1 behind the sizzling pitching of Paul Minner and Bob Rush while Cincinnati pounded out a 13-2 decision at Milwaukee. The Dodgers and Pirates were rained out after three innings with the score, 1-1.

Bob Turley of the Yankees went two-up on all other major league pitchers when he won his eighth game, a three-hit, 6-2 job over Washington before any other hurler had gotten more than six. Detroit topped Kansas City, 8-2 while Baltimore beat Boston, 6-2, then lost 5-2, in other American League games. Chicago at Cleveland was rained out.

Berra Gives Turley Boost

Yogi Berra gave Turley a big boost when he hit a three-run homer in a four-run first and the Yankees coasted in. Turley struck out six to give him a total of 78 — tops in the majors.

Frank Lary, Detroit's 24-year-old kid, pitched his fourth victory, giving Kansas City but six hits. Fred Hatfield and Bill Tuttle hit homers in a 24-hit offensive. It was Detroit's sixth win against one loss over K. C.

The Delock halted Boston's latest losing streak at five when he pitched a five-hitter and struck out eight after the Baltimore Orioles took the opener with a 12-hitter assault that included a triple and two singles by Billy Cox. Jackie Jensen drove in three runs in Boston's triumph.

Minner, pitching his first game in 19 days, doled out four hits and topped rookie Larry Jackson in a duel when Bob Speake homered for the only run in Chicago's opener. Rush missed the $250 prize offered by a Chicago radio station for one-hitters when he was tagged for a ninth inning homer by Rip Repulski in the second game—St. Louis' only run of the day. Eddie Miksis hit a first inning Chicago homer.

Cincinnati, winning its seventh game in the last eight, racked up 18 hits off five Milwaukee pitchers including starter and loser Warren Spahn. Jabbo Jablonski tagged Spahn for a two-run homer.

U. of I. Defeats Illinois Wesleyan

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—In the final baseball game of the season for both teams, the University of Illinois defeated Illinois Wesleyan Wednesday, 12-3.

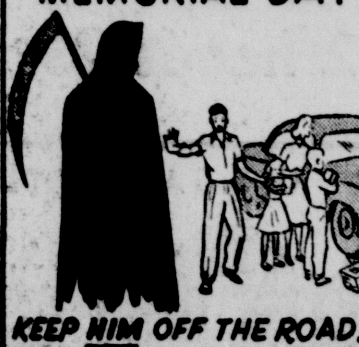

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Next weekend will bring Memorial Day, the first big holiday of the approaching summer season and a three-day weekend. Patriotic programs, picnics, visits to relatives and friends, golf games and drives in the country will put thousands more cars on our highways than they usually carry.

If you and your family are going to be in one of those cars, take it easy. Despite all warnings, despite good intentions on the part of most drivers, despite good cars and good roads, it can be predicted—and probably with horrifying accuracy—that some 300 persons in our country will lose their lives in traffic crashes during those three days, and that about 30 of those deaths will occur on Illinois streets and highways.

Don't drive either too fast or too slow. Keep your eyes on the road, your mind on driving and your temper under control. If the other fellow wants to be a "stunt man," just get out of his way, don't try to match him. If he persists in being discourteous, let him. Don't try to get even. Let's you and your family still be together on next Tuesday.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Tornados Leave Path of Ruin, Death of calling for help, anyway, Harvey reported. They were busy freeing themselves from the debris, rescuing the wounded and searching for their scattered families.

Later, when communications were set up and rescuers moved in, some surrounding hospitals were forced to turn away ambulances loaded with the injured because they were filled to overflowing with the tornado victims.

In Just 60 Seconds

The twister hit Blackwell a short time earlier. One resident said it "sounded like a freight train coming by my house."

The eastern half of the town, about 2 1/2 square miles, was flattened, and the Riverside Osteopathic Hospital and the Hazel Atlas Glass Co. were demolished.

Mrs. Milo Davis and her husband crawled from beneath the ruin of their home to find their two young sons playing on the flattened roof.

Meanwhile, about 450 miles away, a B36 atomic Superbomber apparently ran into a tornado and crashed near Sterling, Tex., with 14 feared dead.

But Udall was the worst. The storm struck with absolutely no warning, and within 60 seconds virtually every building in town was leveled.

Most of the injured were taken to hospitals in the nearby communities of Winfield, Wichita and Arkansas City. Many were near death. Others wept hysterically or stared mute and glassy-eyed.

Some of the less seriously injured sobbed quietly in their shattered homes.

Steering Wheel Comes Off, Youth Uses Horn Ring

MUSKOGON HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP)—Patrolman Donald Robbins refused to pass Harry Bacon's car through a police safety check because he was steering with a horn.

Bacon, who had a horn ring fastened to the steering column said, "The wheel came off, so I use this. It works okay."

He was ordered to get a new steering wheel.

The Capitol at Washington, D. C., and the Mormon Tabernacle at Salt Lake City, Utah, have the two famous whispering galleries of the United States.

Nine Entered In Preakness

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Heavily favored Nashua drew eight opponents, including a virtually unknown longshot from Chicago, when the entry box closed today for Saturday's $100,000 added Preakness stakes at Pimlico.

Sticks, who hasn't won in six starts this year, was entered via a telephone call from Chicago before the entries closed. The colt, owned by the B. and G. Stable, will be flown here from Chicago today.

The other entries which will attempt to match strides with Nashua in the classic are Traffic Judge, Fleet Path, Honey's Alibi, Saratoga, Nance's Lad, Go Lightly and Chuck Thompson. A'ally, Nashua and Traffic Judge were entered Tuesday, while the names of the other starters were dropped into the entry box this morning.

Sticks finished fourth in a mile race at Balmoral last Saturday, but he showed such strong closing speed that his owners, Frank A. Benner and Norman G. Galbreath, decided at the last minute to give him a crack at the Preakness.

15 Teams Entered In Kiwanis Leagues; More are Needed

Fifteen teams have entered the Kiwanis summer baseball leagues, it was announced today by Ronnie Doerge, chairman of the program for the Harrisburg Kiwanis club.

Doerge stated three teams have entered the National league and one more is needed. In the Three-I league only one team has entered, and three more are needed if that league is to operate. Nine teams have been entered in the Kitty league and two in the American. Two more also are needed in the American league.

Other teams planning to enter the summer play should speed their applications, Doerge stated, as schedules must be drawn up for league play to begin June 6.

The age requirements for players in the American league have been changed to include boys 15 and 16 years old.

Age limits for the teams are as follows: Kitty, 9 to 12; Three-I, 14 and under; American, 15 and 16; National, 16 to 20.

A. L. (Kayo) Willis, high school coach at Equality, has been named one of the two supervisors for the summer program. Harold Gulley will be the other.

Team managers and league supervisors will meet Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the Masonic temple to complete plans for the summer baseball program which is sponsored by the Kiwanis club to provide a recreation program during the summer months for the boys of the community.

Convict Seven Communists Of Conspiracy

DENVER (AP)—Seven lower echelon Communists convicted Wednesday night of conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States government served notice today they would appeal their convictions while they remained free on bond.

District Judge Jean S. Breitenstein gave 11 court-appointed attorneys for the defense until June 9 to file motions and set June 15 as the day the motions would be argued.

Arthur Bary, 43, one of the defendants who was described by the FBI as a Communist underground leader assigned to find out how FBI agents were tracking down Reds, said minutes after the jury returned its verdict "we intend to appeal."

The verdict was returned by the jury of seven men and five women after eight hours and 20 minutes of deliberation. The jurors had listened to a large number of government witnesses and extended arguments since the trial started March 23.

The defendants, including Bary's 29-year-old wife, Anna, face a maximum of five years in prison and $10,000 fines if their appeals fail.

The five other defendants were Harold Zepelin, Lewis Johnson of Utah, Joseph William Scherrer and Mai Scherrer, his wife, of Pueblo, Colo., and Patricia Blau of Los Angeles.

The government had stated in its Smith Act indictments the seven plotted the destruction of the government by force at meetings in Colorado over a period of years.

Increase in Persons Receiving Public Aid Drops in March

SPRINGFIELD — The increase in the number of persons receiving public assistance was cut in March, the Illinois Public Aid Commission reported Tuesday.

Garrett W. Keaster, executive secretary of the IPAC, interpreted the lessening of the aid rolls increase as "more than seasonal economic recovery."

But the March public aid rolls totaled 301,570 persons for the five programs, up 669 over February and 32,143 over March, 1954.

The increase from January to February was 5,300 persons.

General assistance, or relief costs dropped $47,910 in March from February, due both to a decrease in numbers getting aid under this program and slight decreases in payments per person, Keaster said.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

XXV
Just beyond the bank, a crowd of about 40 townfolk stood gathered along the sidewalk.
"What are those jaspers looking at?" said Clell tersely, his eyes only a second behind Jesse's.
One of the men in the crowd pointed suddenly. Jesse, following the line of the point, wound up looking at himself.

"It's me," he snapped to Clell. "Somebody has spotted me." The finger-pointer was gesturing and talking to the others. In turn, they were using their eyes, and not just on Jesse. The whole gang was getting a going-over.

"What'll we do, Jess?"
"Ride straight on. Don't even look back. Make out like nothing's wrong. Pass it back to the boys." Clell nodded, dropped his horse back.

While the crowd continued to stare, the gang kept going—straight out and away from Man-kato, Minn. And straight out and away from $55,000 in the open vault of the First National Bank, which could have been theirs.

The crowd on the sidewalk was watching a construction crew working on a building out of sight of the gang's line of approach. The man who had pointed at Jesse was only calling attention to his superb black gelding, and the following regards and admiring comments of his fellow townfolk had been directed solely at the beautiful horse-flesh which carried the rest of the Missourians.

Tired out by two days of empty surveillance and convinced the James gang had never been near Minnesota than Adair, Iowa, the sheriff was soundly asleep in the good September sunshine in front of his office three blocks away.

It was 2 p. m. and Northfield drowsed in the after-dinner quiet. There were only three of them. If anyone noticed them, it was because of the fine horses, two blood-bays and a lean, racebred black.

Across the square lay Division Street, Northfield's main stem of business houses. On the southwest corner of Division Street, to their right, flanked by the mercantile establishments of Lee & Hitchcock and H. Scrivner & Co., stood the First National Bank of Northfield. Straight ahead lay the hardware stores of J. S. Allen and A. E. Manning. To their left was Wheeler & Blackman's Drugstore.

At Lee & Hitchcock's, they selected casual seats on the sidewalk dry-goods boxes provided for the purpose. One of them dug a bowie knife from beneath his linen duster, picked up a piece of wood, began to whittle and whistle as though he had ridden 800 miles for no other reason. The other two fell into a close-mouthed conversation, their eyes darting constantly to the street that entered the square beyond the bank. Shortly, the smaller of the two stiffened.

"Yonder they come, Bob. Let's go."

Bob Younger looked up, saw Cole and Clell Miller slowly jogging their horses into Division Street from the east road. He nodded swiftly, passed the word to the third man. "Look sharp, Charlie. We've moving."

The whittler put away his knife, trailed off his monotonous whistle. "I'm right behind you," said Charlie Pitts.

The three men walked quickly to the bank, entered it without looking again at the approaching horsemen.

Clell turned his mount in at the bank's hitching rail, tied him alongside the first three. He moved to the bank door, peered in, turned and waved to his companion. Cole waved back, swung off his tall bay in midstreet, began tugging at a saddlebag.

Jesse's Big Plan was running easy as gun-oil through a smooth-bore musket. At least it was outside the bank.
Inside the bank, the oil was hitting a few rust pits.

Hard at work, as Jesse and his two henchmen entered the building, were Joseph Lee Heywood, bookkeeper and acting cashier, A. E. Bunker, teller, and F. J. Wilcox, assistant bookkeeper. Heywood, new to his job and over-anxious to please, moved from his desk to meet the strangers. His eager smile ended in a startled gasp.

"Throw up your hands," said Jesse quietly. "And don't holler out. I've got 40 men outside this bank. You're the cashier, ain't you?"

When he turned again to Heywood, he was beginning to blink. "I know a cashier when I see one," he said. "Open that safe or I'll blow your head off."
"I can't open it," the cashier pleaded. "It's got a timelock on it."
They seized Heywood, Pitts slashing him across the face with his pistol barrel, Bob hurling him bodily against the vault.
"You still got a timelock on that safe?" asked Jesse.
Heywood nodded stubbornly. Pitts moved in, shoved his gun in an inch from his cheek. The powder blast tore open Heywood's face, ripped away his right ear.
"How about it?" said Jesse.
Heywood shook his lacerated head.

"Work on him," growled Jesse to Pitts. "Come on, Bob, let's get the other two."
In fearful turn, Bunker and Wilcox had nothing to say. The bandits pistol-whipped them to their knees. The answer was the same. The safe was timelocked. "Keep working on yours," Jesse yelled to Pitts. "We'll get an answer somewhere."
